What is friendship?

Friendship is a special kind of relationship between two or more people. Friends like to spend time together, do things together, and help each other out. Friends are there for each other when they need someone to talk to, play with, or just have fun with.

How to be a good friend

There are many things you can do to be a good friend. Here are a few tips:

- Be kind and respectful.
- Be honest and trustworthy.
- Be supportive and encouraging.
- Be forgiving and understanding.
- Be a good listener.
- Be yourself.

Activities

This book includes several activities that can help preschoolers practice their friendship skills. Here are a few examples:

- The Friendship Circle: This activity helps preschoolers learn how to make friends. They sit in a circle and pass a ball around. When they have the ball, they say something nice about the person next to them.
- The Helping Hands: This activity helps preschoolers learn how to be helpful to their friends. They work together to complete a task, such as building a tower or cleaning up a mess.
- The Feelings Charades: This activity helps preschoolers learn how to identify and express their feelings. They take turns acting out different feelings, such as happiness, sadness, anger, and fear.

This book is a great resource for preschool teachers and parents who want to help their children learn about friendship. It provides simple and clear explanations of what friendship is and how to be a good friend. The activities in the book are also a fun and engaging way for preschoolers to practice their friendship skills.
